

Praise the President's Race Question Views

Representative Small, Democrat, Calls Upon Southerners to Aid President in His Efforts to Solve the Negro Problem.

"As a Southern man it is my opinion that every Southerner should uphold and encourage the President in his efforts to aid us in the solution of the race question."

This view of the attitude of the President toward the South was expressed at the White House yesterday by Representative Small of North Carolina, who called to congratulate the President upon his speech before the Republican Club of the city of New York on Monday night, in which he dealt with the race question.

"While many Southern Democrats, myself among the number, have criticized the President on the stump," said Mr. Small, "I think that we should, and will, show a spirit to meet him half way when he shows a desire to understand us and to sympathize with us in our position on the race question. This desire he has undoubtedly shown."

"There is no prejudice against the negro in the South. We are willing for him to have a chance, but that chance must be given him along definite lines. The integrity of the Caucasian race demands that there shall be no social intermingling of the two races. Have this well understood and there will be little trouble."

"I may say that, as a result of the short conversation I had with the President, in the course of which we both spoke frankly and freely, I was impressed with the idea that the feelings of the President toward the South are most kind. In the nature of things, I believe, a Southern Democrat is better fitted to discuss the race question with the President than a Northern Republican or a Southern Republican.
